Illing Enrichment Showcases

Illing Middle School students who participate in the Enrichment program led by Enrichment Teacher Mr. David Lee displayed their fall/winter projects at Showcases on Thursday, January 29th & Tuesday, February 3rd, 2015 in the Illing Media Center.

Students have been working on producing creative products based on graphic novels for this particular project. Students read one (or more) graphic novels and then developed a creative product, an Essential Question, and research questions based on something inspiring from their graphic novel. Some projects have a really close connection to their graphic novel, and some go in really interesting directions that the students can tell you all about.

Topics include: Connecticut ghost stories, The Odyssey, adult creativity vs. kid creativity, stop-motion animation, the effects of and living with schizophrenia, and silent movies – just to name a few. And yes, all of these are topics inspired by graphic novels (also known as comic books).
